THE GRACIOUS COUNTY CLERKS

OF VIRGINIA

AND

THEIR CHARMING DEPUTIES

WHO, BY THEIR COURTESY, HELPFULNESS

AND ENCOURAGEMENT HAVE

MADE MY WORK A

NEVER ENDING PLEASURE.

Preface

Did I say there was nothing in the world as peaceful as a Virginia court house? I take it all back. That was before I went to Brunswick.

There's nothing peaceful about Brunswick. There was so much going on I could hardly stay indoors and attend to my business.

But the only thing I really missed was the jail break. From my ground floor room at the inn I could look smack through the jail across the street. When the break took place it was after midnight and I was busy writing Easter cards to the folks back home.

I did see the fire sale. It was held in a tobacco warehouse (no use to say "huge": all tobacco warehouses are huge) across the side street. In my ignorance I thought they had tobacco at the fire sale but it turned out to be merchandise from a department store. Nobody could use either street on account of the curb-to-curb crowd.

One night there was a dance in another tobacco warehouse. The music floated in to me as well as the happy sound of young people having fun until all hours. I loved all of it.

Then there was the stew. Sure 'nough stew, presided over by two white clad colored men stirring with what looked to my cotton-patch eyes to be six foot lengths of ~~lx~~ flooring which they used like canoe paddles. It was just before Easter and one of the churches was having a supper in - you guessed it - another tobacco warehouse. The cooking took place on the court house lawn, right under the Clerk's window, in a black iron pot big enough to set up housekeeping in.

It was about the stew that I disgraced myself by asking if it were Mulligan stew only to be told with gentle courtesy, "No, Brunswick". I was as abashed as Kipling was when he poked the fire with Otheris' bayonet and Learoyd spoke to him.

I had fun in Brunswick, looking and listening and copying marriages on the side. The personnel of the court house at Lawrenceville is made up of as courteous, helpful and charming people as it has ever been my happy privilege to be thrown with. There is the County Clerk, Mr. W. Emory Elmore, the Deputy Clerk, Mrs. Willie B. Abernathy and the Deputy's Deputy (even mine, when it came to catching a bus 9 mines away!) her nephew, Julian Scarborough. Julian helps everybody.

Miss Willie engaged my room for me helped me, when I needed it, even let me work one night so I could finish in the time I had allotted myself.

Brunswick is truly a delightful place. I thought as I worked of the charming names in the County from which early surveyors took their points and boundaries; Gum Grove, Luster Lane, Old Plank Road, Pigeon Roost Creek, Pea Hill Plantation, Quarrell Swamp, Indian Head Branch, and Rose's Creek.

Brunswick County was formed 1720 from Prince George, Surry and Isle of Wight being one of the three Virginia Counties named in honor of King George I of England whose title had been Duke of Brunswick (Long's Virginia County Names p 48).

The first two pages of the Brunswick Order Book No. 1 are missing. On page 3 it is stated that a court was held for Brunswick the first day of July 1732, with the following gentlemen justices present: George Walton, Charles King, William Wynne and William Maclin. The first clerk was Drury Stith.

The first representation the new county had in the Assembly was the session of 5 August 1736 when Henry Embry and John Wall were Burgessess. (Stanard's Colonial Virginia Register p 108). The first marriage recorded was in 1750.

From Lawrenceville I went to Richmond to check the Brunswick bonds against the Richmond copy. The Brunswick list is alphabetically arranged and the Richmond list chronologically arranged. Since it took less time to copy the entire list than to check one against the other that is what I did.

In 1927 the Brunswick County officials employed some one to copy the loose marriage bonds. This was done, the marriages alphabetically arranged and copied in a book. Up to and including 1810 there are 1,470 marriages entered.

Then in 1938 the loose bonds were sent for safe keeping in fire-proof quarters to the Virginia State Library, Archives Division, Richmond. Here, in 1941, they were copied again by Miss Stella Bass of the Virginia State Library Staff. These are arranged chronologically in a large Marriage Register. There are 1,501 entries up to and including 1810 - 31 more than the Brunswick copy.

These data do not always agree with the Brunswick list. Where there is a discrepancy in the groom's name I have made two cards. In the case of a discrepancy in the bride's name it has been noted on the card - "Bowler Dobbins married Jane Hearn": "Brunswick says Ann Hearn". All discrepancies have been checked by the original bonds not just one list against the other. For instance: Virginia State Library list says Mark Green married Patsey Warwick. The Brunswick copy says Mark Green married Patsy Harwell. Her own consent is with the original bond signed Patsey Warwick, dated 14 December 1797. So the Brunswick copy is clearly wrong. Again: The Virginia State Library copy was Partian Bass married Rebecca Tatum 4 January 1786. The Ministers' Returns say Partain Bass and Rebecca Tatum were married in St. Andrew's Parish by the Rev. Thomas Lundie, Rector of St. Andrew's Parish. Now the Brunswick list says Bertram Bass married Rebecca Tatum 4 January 1786. It would seem that two against one, the name is surely Partain and not Bertram. Then we have further proof in the marriage of Hardiman Ivey and Elizabeth Bass 23 July 1806: Partain and Rebecca Bass consent. Batts Tatum is witness. Again the Brunswick list is clearly wrong.

The reference paging given in this book is from the Virginia State Library copy except where it states "Brunswick p.33". There are several reasons for this. For the same period 1750-1810 there are 31 more marriages in the Virginia State Library copy than in the Brunswick copy, also, the Virginia State Library gives middle names and the Brunswick copy initials only. Then if any one cares to check the information contained in this book he or she would have to revert to the original bonds which are in the Archives department of the Virginia State Library.

The Ministers' Returns starting 1782 are in the back of the Virginia State Library copy of Brunswick Marriages. They do not appear in the Brunswick copy. They are very important. Copied and checked against the bonds, it will be seen there are many marriages in the Ministers' Returns for which there are no bonds. This book contains 208 of them between 1782-1810.

In July 1898 there was published a list of Brunswick county marriage bonds in the William and Mary Quarterly, Vol. VII pp 37-38: again a much larger Brunswick list was published in 1911 in the same magazine Vol. XX pp 195-210 inclusive. In April 1920 the Virginia magazine published a list of Brunswick marriages, continued in October 1921, Vol. XXIX pp 166-168 inclusive, and 508-510 inclusive.

All three of these lists have been carefully checked against both the Brunswick and the Virginia State Library lists. Result: an even dozen marriages that did not appear in the other two lists. They are included with their exact references. These three lists were published before the Brunswick list was made and it is highly probable that there were loose bonds then that had disappeared by 1927.

Brunswick had its share of confused spelling: Cheley - Cheely; Hix - Hicks; Canady - Kennedy; Wray - Ray; House - Howse - Howze; Dugger - Duggar; Sanders - Saunders; Rhese - Rese - Reese; Mathis - Mathews - Matthews.

This volume, with 1,778 entries, is the largest to date in my series of Virginia County Marriages. And it has been the most work because I had so many sources to copy and check. But it has been fun, too, and I hope you like it.
